NEAT CLUB ROOMS ATTACHED

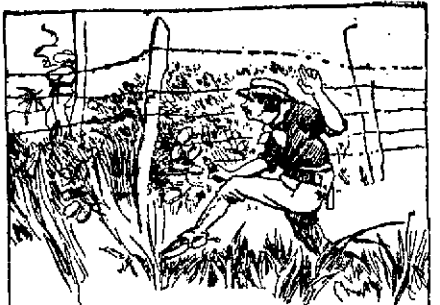

The dread and foreboding which almost invariably comes over a young wife, just ere the advent of the first little darling who shall call her mother, is one of the unnatural burdens which civilization has imposed upon the privilege of motherhood.

There ought not to be such an overwhelming sense of depression and weakness as a woman feels at this time and there would not be if she was in a perfectly strong and healthy condition. In thousands of cases motherhood has been divested of all its dangers and a large proportion of its pain by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is the most marvelous remedy ever discovered for restoring complete organic health and strength to the delicate special structure involved in motherhood. Taken early during the prospective time it makes the mother strong, energetic and cheerful and carries her through the period of trial with comparative comfort and ease. It increases the baby's natural constitutional vigor and adds to the joys of motherhood the supreme satisfaction of a strong, robust, lusty infant. "Favorite Prescription" is also the best supportive tonic for nursing mothers. Every expectant mother will appreciate what is said by Mrs. Fannie M. Barry, of Galesburg, Ills. (545 Churchill Ave.) In a letter to Dr. Pierce she writes:

"I have used your medicines in my family for a long time, and find them to be all that is claimed. I cannot recommend them too highly. My confinement was made easy, as I experienced none of the pains such as others have at that period, and the first born the one that mothers fear so much. Besides, the medicine has helped me in many other ways. I would recommend all afflicted women to try Dr. Pierce's valuable medicines, and thus become well and strong."

How the Rough Rider Utilized a Barbed Wire Fence.

Learning Made Easy.
"I don't know that there is much use of my keeping my school open more than a month or two each year," said the German pedagogues.
"Why is that?"
"Our emperor has simplified matters to such an extent that when you ask the name of the world's greatest poet, painter, musician, general, traveler or monarch there is only one answer to all the questions."—Washington Star.

In Boston.
Miss Bonneywell—My dear Burns! How I do love his wildly sweet poetry! Miss Blunt—You don't mean to say that you understand all the Gaelic he puts into it?
Miss Bonneywell—Understand all of it? Why, of course not! I don't understand any of it. That's the beauty of it, don't you see?—Boston Transcript.

Reduced to Silence.
"Yes," said the talkative barber, "I'm in politics, and they can't lose me."
"Well," replied the lathered victim, "if your razor is any indication, your opponents are facing a strong pull."
From that on he refrained from political discussions with scraped acquaintances.—New York Journal.

Signs Infallible.
"Madam," smiled the doctor, "your husband is well again. His liver is in perfect condition."
"I know it. He paid the bill for my new fall hat without a protest and then asked me if I didn't think I would better get a nice winter wrap of some kind."—Detroit Free Press.

It is reported that 400,000 canaries change hands every year in the United Kingdom alone, the value of them being about $100,000.

WELL NO FORGET.

During his Western expedition—political tour—President McKinley spent a great deal of time and much power to explain to the dear people of Mr. Bryan's State, how, under his administration a great patriotic movement had been sidetracked and shunted off onto a network of jobs and scandals and failures and whitewashing.

No nation was ever more united in the assertion of the national honor than were the people of the United States in the Spanish war—not by bigotry, or appeal to ignorance, or superstition or even national animosity, but solely by a desire to support ourselves in what they had deemed the right thing for them to do. At the first call of the President, soldiers sprang from the bodies of the people, money poured into the National Treasury in a flood; helpful associations were formed and put to work, and the entire resources of our resourceful people were placed at the demand of our leaders. And how was it met?

By jobbery in the selection of camps and the chartering of boats; by favoritism in the selection of generals, by nepotism in the appointment of incompetent staff officers; by wild extravagance in the purchase of supplies, and by recklessness and ignorance in their disposition to those who needed them, and the consequence is:

That a star chamber inquiry was directed to whitewash important official blunders; our army of volunteers was disgusted, and a campaign that opened in glory has closed with the groans of those who bore the brunt of the contest.

President McKinley may two years hence draw upon the people to forget and forgive this blundering and rascality, but his draft will not be honored.

HONOR TO NEVADA.

It is a conservative estimate that nine-tenths of the silver literature, or perhaps the ideas upon which such literature has been based, since the bimetallic contest was commenced were furnished by the press of Nevada. The first silver article was published in the Eureka Sentinel, we believe, sometime in 1875, in which was predicted, unless the Act of '78 was repealed, almost precisely the condition of things which would exist in Nevada and other silver producing States at the present time, and which have existed during the last decade of years. No old Nevada editor can fail to recognize in the latter day bimetallic publications and speeches, ideas and arguments, which he and his editorial contemporaries had not worn threadbare in the later seventies and early eighties. Nevada journalists took the lead and sounded the alarm, in the issue which is, and which will be the paramount one in national politics until the question is settled for all time by the election of William Jennings Bryan in 1900. Nevada single-handed, commenced the war twenty-five years ago, which will be successfully terminated with the advent of the coming century.

A POOR EXCUSE.

It is said that Japanese are being imported for the Morison coal mines, in the Sanpete valley, the owners claiming that it is absolutely impossible to get white men to do the underground work in the mines. The managers state that all the American miners they could secure have been given employment.—Bingham (Utah) Bulletin.

The owners' assertion is mere balderdash. There are enough idle but competent miners in Nevada to work forty larger coal mines than any in Utah. The trouble evidently is that the Morison owners want white men to work for Japanese wages. Let them offer reasonable pay for underground work, and the JOURNAL will undertake to furnish them all the men necessary to conduct their work and thus enable them to avoid importations from the Orient.

The Nevada newspapers can render better service to bimetalism by discussing the question as to how the silver men of the State can most effectively assist the general cause, than by publishing long-winded articles on the merits of the question itself. There is no missionary work needed here, for nine-tenths of the voters in Nevada are at heart silver men. Not one-tenth of those who voted for McMillan were goldbugs or single standard men. A majority of his vote was cast by men who blindly followed the party to which they had belonged for years and were too irresolute to change. The remainder was cast by politicians who hope to profit by their "loyalty" if a Republican President should be elected in 1900, and a far larger number who deserted their own candidate, whom they thought had no chance of election, and supported the Republican nominee to defeat a candidate more objectionable to them than Mr. McMillan. The silver men in Nevada have votes to throw at the birds, and the question of its consolidation is far more important than that of proselytizing.

A California Republican contemporary thinks there is not much to choose between ex-Governor Altgeld and Governor Tanner. There is this difference. Altgeld always obeyed and enforced the law, while Tanner openly defied it. Altgeld ordered the Illinois militia to preserve order, and protested against the interference of the Federal authorities with a work which the State authorities had shown their ability to perform. Tanner not only refused to maintain order, but invited riot.

The Virginia Report has an editorial captioned, "As Others See Us." We would be pleased if Brother Considine would follow it up with an article headed "As We See ourselves." Let our youthful friend hold up the political mirror of Nevada and trace there from its reflections, with his masterful hand, and he would produce picture upon picture which would insure the attention if not the admiration of the entire civilized world.

ALTHOUGH the Republicans have more than two-thirds of the membership of the next Pennsylvania Legislature, there is talk of defeating Quay's return to the Senate. It will amount to nothing more than mere talk, however, for the dozen or more indictments for embezzlement of public funds will strengthen, rather than weaken him, with the Republicans of the Keystone State.

U. S. GRANT, JR., is said to have his eye on the seat now occupied by Senator White of California, but the chances are that Mike de Young or some other Republican, will sit on U. S. Grant, Junior's eye. By the by, where are John A. Logan, Jr., and James G. Blaine, Jr.?

More army and more taxes are what the Republicans are clamoring for, and the people will have to bear the burden.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS.

MAKING HASTE SLOWLY.

The Ingenious Husband Plays a Mean Trick on His Wife.

"My wife never appears to be happy," said Dodson wearily, "unless, she has some sort of a fad. Just at present it is Emerson. One of the innumerable clubs that she belongs to has started on a course of study along the line of that impenetrable mystery, and my wife has taken it up with an enthusiasm worthy of a better cause.

"She has made it a sort of religion to read one hour every night from Emerson's essays, and I wouldn't object to that if she would keep quiet, but just as soon as I get interested in a political article she breaks in, and with her face glowing with enthusiasm, insists on reading an extract from Emerson that she calls simply sublime. Then I am obliged to listen to a long recital of big words that would sound just the same if they were read backward, and then when I ask what it is all about she flares up and says that I have no appreciation of the inner soul of a superior intelligence—whatever that may mean.

"I picked up the book the other day and chanced to notice that my wife had carefully marked the place where she had left off the night before with a hairpin. An idea occurred to me, and I set the hairpin back 20 pages, which is her usual limit at one time.

"The next evening she started in where I had placed the hairpin and read through to where she had left off the evening before without noticing that she was going over old ground.

"I have kept it up now for two weeks, and she is still reading the same 20 pages, totally unconscious that she is reading the same thing over and over.

"I am really growing interested in the matter. I notice that now and then she examines the remaining pages rather anxiously, as if she realizes that she is not making the progress that she ought.

"She has now become so anxious to get through, so that she will be able to say that she has read Emerson, that she no longer bothers me with extracts, and I can read my paper in peace.

"Meanwhile I simply chuckle to myself and take care that the hairpin is set back 20 pages every day."—Detroit Free Press.

An Economical Move.

Mr. Spriggs—My dear, it won't be necessary for you to go to the auction at Mr. Sellout's tomorrow.

Mrs. Spriggs—There may be two or three things there that I want, and, besides, I enjoy going to auctions.

"There won't be any auction there."

"Why not?"

"I stopped in today and bought everything he had at private sale."

"Everything? Private sale? Are you crazy? What in the world did you that for?"

"Because I didn't want you to go tomorrow and pay three or four prices for everything."—New York Weekly.

No Partition of China.

It was within the sphere of American influence.

Despite threats and coaxing, the Chinese stood firm, refusing all innovations and reforms.

"No checkmate, no shirtee!" was their firm, invariable reply.

Consequently the foreign devil was forced to retire without making a change of front.—New York Journal.

Dr. Thomas was called to Washoe yesterday afternoon to attend Jno. Silva who was seriously injured by a large stone rolling from a bank he was working under striking him on the back and shoulder. He was pretty badly used up, but the Doctor left him last evening resting comfortably.

It is reported that Aleck McGowan of Carson is a candidate for Speaker of the Assembly. It was generally understood that Lem Allen was booked for the place, but as Lemuel is in the soup because of his failure to file his statement as required by law, Aleck may fall in cold turkey on the gavel in the steerage branch of the Legislature.

Miss Laura Smith, a teacher at the State University, has fallen heirress to $1,000,000, from an estate in England. As the young lady has expressed her aversion to newspaper notoriety on account of her good fortune, the JOURNAL will only extend its congratulations with the hope that she will live long to enjoy the munificent and unexpected bequest from her relatives across the waters.

Loofbourrow, the Cash Grocer, is a "U" in the lead for lowest prices on all kinds of groceries, provisions, tobacco, tin ware etc. His goods are reliable, and his experience of over twenty years in the business will insure you the most capable and honest treatment in all of his dealings. Patronize the man that always brings down high prices when he strikes a town, and raises them only when he leaves the town.

NEGLECTFUL LEGISLATORS.

Some of Them Fail to Comply With the Election Law.

A dispatch received by the JOURNAL from Carson yesterday states that four legislators-elect failed to file their statements of expenses with the Secretary of State on or before the prescribed time, which is November 23d. A part of Section 3 of the Parity of Elections Law reads as follows:

Candidates for offices to be filled by the electors of the State, or any political division thereof greater than a county, and for members of the Senate and Assembly, and Representative in Congress, shall file their statements in the office of the Secretary of State.

Section 2 provides that every candidate shall within 15 days after the day of election file his statement of expenses. This in the present year makes the 23d the last day for such filing.

Part of Section 4, same Act, reads as follows:

If a candidate for public office refuses or neglects to file a statement prescribed by Section 3 of this Act, no certificate of election shall be issued to him; neither shall any official bond presented or offered by him be approved, etc.

This appears to be mandatory and there is no doubt that the Secretary of State cannot legally issue certificates of election to the delinquent legislators.

The negligent quartette is composed of Flannigan, Senator-elect from Washoe county, Hank Martin, Senator-elect from Douglas, Gedney, Assemblyman from Elko, and Lem Allen, Assemblyman from Churchill. We understand that Gedney telegraphed his statement from Elko on the 23d, but for some reason it was not filed until the following day. Martin filed his with the Clerk of his county, but might as well have filed it with the Justice of the Peace of his township.

He, as did Lem Allen, filed after the prescribed date, their statements with the Secretary of State. Flannigan has filed no statement at all. He is now in the East and will not return, perhaps, for several weeks.

As to the political complexion of the delinquents: Flannigan is a Republican; Martin, we believe, was elected as an Independent in Douglas; Gedney is a straight Democrat and was the only one of his party elected on the legislative ticket of his county; Lem Allen is a Silver party man. He has served several terms in the Assembly and it is hard to conceive how he could have been so neglectful, with so much experience in that line.

As affecting the Senatorial contest, those better posted than the JOURNAL scribe place Flannigan and Gedney as opposed to Stewart, Martin doubtful, and Allen an avowed supporter of our Junior Senator.

Doubtless each will demand his seat in the House to which he was elected, and each will decide upon the claims of the applicants for admission to its respective body. As there appears to be no difference in the claims of the several delinquents it seems probable, and certainly just, that all should be admitted or rejected.

Big Extravagance Success.

Chas. E. Blaney's extravaganza success, "A Boy Wanted," will be at the Opera House in Reno next Saturday evening and will afford an entertainment said to be the strongest and brightest ever written by that brilliant author whose successes viz., "The Electrician," "A Hired Girl," "A Boy Wanted," "A Railroad Ticket," "A Baggage Check," are all playing to enormous business.

"A Boy Wanted" is filled with brisk action, bright dialogue and situations, singing and dancing. It moves swiftly from one thing to another, and keeps the audience constantly amused. A company of twenty-five performers, make the largest and strongest farce company on tour.

Prosperous Communities.

The city of Santa Cruz has on deposit in its local banks $1,400,000. The city of Pasadena has about the same amount but has double the population of Santa Cruz. Riverside with a population of 7000 has a million on deposit and Redlands with a population of 4,500 or less has $705,000 in its cash box.

The population of Santa Cruz is about 6,000 and it has $250 per capita of its population to be used for city expenses. Santa Cruz county in California was one of the few counties in that State which did not suffer by the drought. Its crops compare favorably this year with those of former years.

A Handsome Store.

Harry Davis of "The Model" has just finished painting, papering and decorating his place of business and it is now one of the neatest little stores in Reno. He has also laid in a new and complete line of stationery, notions, cigars, tobacco, cigarettes, purses of all kinds, also the latest in novelties—something new. Also a full line of holiday goods can be seen by calling at "The Model."

The Fire Bell.

The fire alarm on Sunday evening was occasioned by a blaze in the residence of Oscar J. Smith. The fire is supposed to have caught from a defect in a fire place and worked its way between the studding to the second story of the building. It was soon extinguished, but the damage to carpets, plastering and some of the furniture is estimated at about $750.

The one who started the story that both the churches in Elko had refused to permit funeral services over the remains of Miss Bessie Baily to be held in their places of worship must have a scouful of malice, there not being a shadow of truth in the statement. Thus walleth the Elko Argonaut.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Football Banquet.

The members of the U. of N. football team were given a banquet on Sunday evening, in honor of their recent great victory over the Stanford giants.

A most enjoyable occasion it was. Every man on the team still thrilled with the pleasure of victory, and the mention of some determined, vigorous plays that had brought the spheroid over the opponent's goal line caused an almost unconquerable desire to cheer the man who had carried the ball, the sturdy line that had made his gain possible, the loyal student body, the generous citizens of Reno, anybody and everything that had contributed to the success of the Varsity team.

Feeling thus, the men could have been happy under any circumstances. Now imagine, if you can, their feelings when they were ushered into the college dining hall and seated before a display of viands that would have caused an epicure to dance with glee. There is no need of enumerating the delicacies on the menu. When anyone says "Football Banquet" the broad smiles of satisfaction that spread over the faces of those who were there indicate directly that it was par excellence. The unflinching appetite of a "Knight of the Gridiron" is a thing to be coveted on such an occasion. Some one said in response to a toast: "It is advisable to train for athletic events if only to secure the requisite appetite to enjoy a spread like this."

The following toasts were proposed and given:

Supt. Brown, "Football and Our University," Manager Bruette, "Our Finances," Mr. Dunsdon, "Our Training Table," Mr. Smith, "College Spirit," Mr. Moorman, "Practical Prospects in the Spring," Mr. Keddle, "Team Work," Mr. Pratt, "Training," Mr. Hayes, "Baseball Prospects in the Spring," Mr. Hunter, "The Ladies," Mr. Evans, "Our Trip to San Jose," Mr. Mitchell, "A Sub's View of the Last Game," Mr. Leavitt, "Our Football Future," Mr. Lawrence, "Our Banquet," Coach Ellis, "You Duty to the University."

Coach Ellis spoke in full as follows: "You perhaps realize your duty toward your Alma Mater as regards scholarship and deportment, but I do not think you yet fully realize the duty toward college athletics. You have been surprisingly successful this season in your football contests, you have awakened a confidence and determination in your hearts and have awakened a feeling among your town folk that 'our boys' are to be Nevada's stronghold. You have opened their eyes to a bright future and it rests upon the students of this University to keep this sky as cloudless as a Summer day."

"You have accomplished wonders for your University; you have started the stream of enthusiasm and University support with a full, fast current, and you are reaping a just reward. But do not rest upon your laurels, keep up the pace and see to it that when you return to your studies next January that you bring another student with you, or have influenced some football, baseball, track, tennis or rhetorical athlete to join you in your effort to do honor to your Alma Mater and yourselves."

"You have opened competition with a great State, one of the greatest in the Union as regards size, commerce, resources and opportunities for education. You have made a splendid showing and in order to have the good work go on you must collect all the material available; you must urge your friends to co-operate, and above all to increase the numerical, athletic and graduate standing of your just pride, the U. of N."

After the toasts, mirth and wit reigned until the time of departure, and the universal sentiment was, "Long live Superintendent Brown."

Should Ladies Run for Office?

Ladies, look here, and gentlemen, too, for that matter. Now you think this is an advertisement, well, what if it is, you will read it just the same. Now what I want you to bear in mind is this: Are you aware that this is November, and that Christmas is only a little over a month off? Goodness, gracious! If you want anything in our line, don't put it off till the last minute. Come now, lots of them say that you can get just as good work at the Riverside studio as you can in the city and it's so, too.

How To Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver is inactive, you have a bilious look, if your stomach is disordered, you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected, you have a pinched look. Secure good health, and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good Alternative and tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at S. J.
